Alkaline Menu

We create every meal individually because each of us has unique requirements and is looking at achieving different goals.

Rather than going through each and every ingredient and looking at the nutritional values of each meal. All you need to do is state the ingredients you don't want in your meals and the calories you require and we will prepare the meals just right for you.

Anything you like we keep, anything you don't like we won't send it to you again.

We also cater to any dietary preferences and can remove ingredients you do not want.
